Article 58

The President of Faso decrees, after deliberation in the Council of Ministers, the state of siege and the state of urgency.

Article 59

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

When the Institutions of Faso, the independence of the Nation, the integrity of its territory or the execution of its obligations are menaced in a grave and immediate manner and/or that the regular functioning of the public constitutional powers is interrupted, the President of Faso takes, after deliberation in the Council of Ministers, after official consultation of the Presidents of the Senate, of the National Assembly and of the Constitutional Council, the measures required by the circumstances. He informs the Nation of it by a message. In no case, may he make an appeal to foreign armed forces to intervene in an internal conflict. The Parliament meets of plain right and the National Assembly may not be dissolved during the exercise of exceptional powers.

Article 60

The President of Faso can delegate certain of his powers to the Prime Minister.

TITLE IV
OF THE GOVERNMENT

Article 61

The Government is an organ of the Executive.

It conducts the policy of the Nation; in this capacity, it is obligatorily referred to [matters]:

- of drafts of international agreements;
- of bills and proposals of law;
- of drafts of regulatory texts.

It [has at its] disposal the administration and the forces of defense and of security.

Article 62

The Government is responsible before the Parliament in the conditions and following the procedures specified by this Constitution.

Article 63

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Prime Minister is the Head of the Government; in this capacity, he directs and coordinates the governmental action.

He is responsible for the implementation of the policy of national defense defined by the President of Faso.

He exercises the regulatory power conforming to the law, assures the implementation of the laws, appoints to civil and military offices other than those relevant to the competence of the President of Faso.

In the thirty days which follow his appointment, the Prime Minister makes a declaration of general policy before the National Assembly.

This declaration is followed by debates and gives rise to a vote.

The adoption of this declaration validates [vaut] investiture.

If the declaration of general policy does not receive the absolute majority of the members composing the National Assembly, the President of Faso terminates the functions of the Prime Minister within a time of eight days.

He appoints a new Prime Minister in accordance with the provisions of Article 46 above.

Article 64

The Prime Minister assures the presidency of the Council of Ministers by delegation and for a specific agenda.

Article 65

However, by derogation of the paragraph above and in the case of force majeure or of necessity expressed by the Government and recognized by the Parliament with the absolute majority of the votes [voix] of the members composing the Parliament, the duration of the legislature may be prorogued until the validation of the mandate of the Deputies or of the Senators of the new legislature.

This extension may not surpass a time of one (1) year.

This modification is applied to the current legislature.

Article 82

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The law determines:

- the electoral circumscriptions;
- the number of seats and their division;
- the modes of the ballot;
- the conditions of election, of designation and of replacement by new elections or appointment in the case of vacancy of [a] seat, as well as the regime of the ineligibilities and of the incompatibilities;
- the status of the parliamentarians and the amount of their indemnities.

Article 83

It may not proceed to partial elections in the last third of the legislature.

Article 84

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Parliament votes the law, consents to taxation and controls the action of the Government conforming to the provisions of this Constitution.

Article 85

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

Any imperative mandate is null.

However, any Deputy who freely resigns from his party or from his political formation in the course of [a] legislature is replaced[,] of right[,] by a substitute. The law specifies [précise] the modalities of implementation of this provision.

All the members of the Parliament have deliberative voice. The right to vote of the parliamentarians is personal. However the delegation of the vote is permitted when the absence of a member of the Parliament is justified. No one may validly receive for a given [donné] ballot more than one delegation of the vote.

Article 86

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

Every new Chamber of the Parliament proclaims the validity of the election or of the appointment of its members[,] notwithstanding the control of regularity exercised by the Constitutional Council.

It establishes its regulations.

An organic law establishes the regulations concerning the organization and the functioning of the Chambers of the Parliament.

Article 87

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

Each Chamber of the Parliament meets of plain right each year in two ordinary sessions. The term of each may not exceed ninety days. The first session opens the first Wednesday of March and the second the last Wednesday of September. If the first Wednesday of March or the last Wednesday of September is a holiday, the session opens the first working day possible which follows.

Article 88

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

Article 89

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The sittings of the Chambers of the Parliament are public. However they may be held in closed [session] in case of need.

Article 90

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

Except [in the] case of force majeure declared by the Constitutional Council, the deliberations of each Chamber of the Parliament are valid only if they have taken place at its seat [à son siège].

The deliberations of the Congress may be made in any other place regularly determined by joint decision of the President of the National Assembly and of the President of the Senate.

Article 91

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The President of the Senate and the President of the National Assembly are elected for the duration of the legislature by the absolute majority in the first round, or by the simple majority at the second round.

The members of the Bureau are elected for one year, renewable. However, their functions can be terminated during the course of the legislature at the demand of two-fifths[, ] and after a vote of the absolute majority[, ] of the members of the Assembly.

By absolute majority [it] is understood [to mean] more than half of the votes [voix].

Article 92

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

In case of vacancy of the presidency of a Chamber of the Parliament by death, resignation or for any other cause, the said Chamber elects a new President within the conditions defined in Article 91.

Article 93

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

Each Chamber of the Parliament enjoys financial autonomy. Each President manages the credits which are allotted to him for the functioning of the Chamber.

The President is responsible for this management before the Chamber; it can dismiss him by the absolute majority for incompetence [faute lourde] in his management.

Article 94

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

Every elected member of the Parliament appointed to high functions is replaced by a substitute. The list of the high functions is determined by the law.

If he ceases to exercise his functions at the latest before the end of the [first] half of the legislature, he can retake his seat; beyond this date, he may only retake it in case of vacancy of the seat by the death or resignation of the substitute.

Article 95

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

No member of the Parliament may be prosecuted, investigated, arrested, detained or judged for reason of the opinions or votes emitted by him during the exercise or on the occasion of the exercise of his functions.

Article 96

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

Except in the case of flagrante delicto, any member of the Parliament may only be prosecuted or arrested in a penal or criminal matter with the authorization of at least one-third of the members of the Chamber of which he is a member during the sessions or of the Bureau of that Chamber when out of the sessions.

TITLE VI

OF THE RESPECTIVE DOMAINS OF THE LAW AND OF REGULATION

Article 97

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The law is a deliberation, regularly promulgated[,] of the Parliament.

The law to which the Constitution confers the organic character is a deliberation of the Parliament having for its object the organization or the functioning of the institutions. It is voted by the absolute majority and promulgated after declaration of its conformity with the Constitution by the Constitutional Council.

The initiative of the law belongs concurrently to the Deputies, to the Senators and to the Government.

The drafts of texts emanating from the Deputies or from the Senators are called “proposals of law” [propositions de loi] and those emanating from the Government “bills of law” [projets de loi].

The proposals and bills of law are deliberated in the Council of Ministers before their deposit with the Bureau of each Chamber of the Parliament.

Article 98

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The people exercise the initiative of the laws by way [voie] of petition constituting a proposal[,] written and signed by at least fifteen thousand (15,000) persons having the right to vote under the conditions specified by the law.

The petition is deposited with the Bureau of the National Assembly.

The right of amendment belongs to the Deputies, to the Senators and to the Government whatever the origin of the text may be.

Article 99

The ordinance [l'ordonnance] is an act signed by the President of Faso, after deliberation of the Council of Ministers, within the domains reserved to the law and in the cases specified in Articles 103, 107 and 119 of this Constitution. It enters into force on its publication.

Article 100

The simple decree [décret simple] is an act signed by the President of Faso or by the Prime Minister and countersigned by one or more competent members of the Government.

The decree in the Council of Ministers is an act signed by the President of Faso and by the Prime Minister after the opinion of the Council of Ministers: it is countersigned by one or more competent members of the Government.

Article 101

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The law establishes the rules concerning:

- citizenship, civic rights and the exercise of the public freedoms;
- constraints arising from the necessities of the National Defense;
- nationality, the state and capacity of persons, the matrimonial regimes;
- inheritance and gifts;
- the procedure according to which custom may be asserted and harmonized with the fundamental principles of the Constitution;
- the promotion of gender;
- the determination of crimes and misdemeanors, as well as the penalties which are applicable to them, the penal procedure, [and] amnesty;
- the organization of judicial and administrative tribunals and the procedure before these jurisdictions, the status of the magistrates, [and] of the ministerial and auxiliary officers of justice;
- the basis, the rate and the modalities of collecting taxes of all kinds;
- the regime of the issuance of money;
- the electoral regime of the National Assembly, of the Senate and of the local assemblies;
- the nationalization of enterprises and the transfers of property of enterprises of the public sector to the private sector;
- the creation of categories of public establishments;
- the state of siege and the state of urgency.

The law determines the fundamental principles:

- of the protection and of the promotion of the environment;
- of the drafting, of the execution and of the review of the national plans and programs of development;
- of the protection of the freedom of the press and of the access to information;
- of the general organization of the Administration;
- of the general status of the public function;
- of the organization of the national defense;
- of education [enseignement] and of scientific research;
- of the integration of the national cultural values;
- of the regime of property, of the rights of real property and of civil and commercial obligations;
- of the right to work, of the syndical right, and of the social institutions;
- of the alienation and of the management of the domain of the State;
- of the penitentiary regime;
- of insurance and of savings;
- of the organization of production;
- of the regime of transportation and communications;
- of the free administration of the territorial collectivities, of their competences and of their resources.

Article 102

The law of finance determines, for each year, the resources and the obligations [charges] of the State. The bill of the law of finance must specify the receipts necessary for the integral coverage of expenses.

Article 103

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Parliament votes the bill of the law of finance within the conditions provided for by the law.

The National Assembly is referred to [the matter] of the bill of the law of finance at the opening of the second ordinary session.

The National Assembly decides [statue] first within a time of sixty days after the deposit of the bill and the Senate has at its disposal fifteen days counting from the date of reception to decide [prononcer].

If the Senate adopts a text identical to that of the National Assembly, the law is transmitted without delay to the President of Faso for promulgation.

If the Senate has not decided within the time required or is in disagreement with the National Assembly, the bill is transmitted with urgency to the National Assembly which decides definitively.

The provisions of the bill can be put into force by ordinance if the Assembly has not decided at the latest on the date of the cloture of the session and only if the budgetary year is about to expire. In this case, the Government convokes an extraordinary session, in order to demand the ratification. If the budget is not voted at the end of the extraordinary session, it is definitively established by ordinance.

If the bill of the law of finance has not been dealt with in a timely fashion [temps utile] to be voted and promulgated before the beginning of the fiscal year

[exercice], the Prime Minister demands of urgency of the Assembly the authorization to restore the budget of the preceding year by provisional twelfths.

Article 104

In the course of the execution of the budget, when the circumstances require it, the Government proposes to the Parliament, the adoption of rectifying laws of finance.

Article 105

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Parliament regulates the accounts of the Nation, according to the modalities specified by the law of finance.

It is, to this effect, assisted by the Court of Accounts which is responsible for all inquiries and studies concerning the execution of the public receipts and expenses, or the management of the national treasury, of the territorial collectivities, of the administrations or institutions arising from the State or submitted to its control.

Article 106

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Parliament meets of plain right in the case of [a] state of siege, if it is not in session. The state of siege can only be extended more than fifteen days with the authorization of the Parliament.

The declaration of war and the sending of military contingents or observers abroad are authorized by the Parliament.

Article 107

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Government can, for the execution of its programs, demand of the Parliament the authorization to take by ordinance, for a limited time period, measures which are normally of the domain of the law.

The ordinances are taken in the Council of Ministers after the opinion of the Constitutional Council. They enter into force on their publication, but become lapsed if the bill of law of ratification is not deposited with the National Assembly before the date established by the enabling law [loi d'habilitation].

On the expiration of the time period mentioned in the first paragraph of this Article, the ordinances may only be modified by the law in those of their provisions which are of the legislative domain.

Article 108

The matters other than those corresponding to the domain of the law have a regulatory character.

TITLE VII

OF THE RELATIONS BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE PARLIAMENT

Article 109

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Prime Minister has access to the Parliament. He can give responsibility to [charger] a member of the Government of representation before the Parliament; that [member] can be assisted, in the course of the debates or in commission, by the members of the Government, [by] counselors or experts of his choice.

The Prime Minister presents directly to the Deputies the state [situation] of the Nation on the opening of the first session of the National Assembly.

This presentation is followed by debate and does not give rise to any vote.

Article 110

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The members of the Government have access to the Parliament, to its commissions and consultative organs. They can be assisted by counselors or experts.

Article 111

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

During the sessions, at least one sitting per week is reserved to the questions of the members of the Parliament and to the responses of the Government.

The Parliament can address to the Government questions on current events, written questions, [or] oral questions with or without debate.

Article 112

[Last amended by Law No. 035-2013/AN of 12 November 2013]

The Government deposits the bills of law before the Parliament within the conditions provided for by the law.

It presents and defends before it the governmental policy, the budget of the State, [and] the plans of economic and social development of the Nation.

In accordance with the law, the Government participates in the debates concerning the orientation, the legitimacy, the merit [bien-fondée] and the effectiveness of the policy of the Government.

Every bill of law is examined successively in the two Chambers of the Parliament. The bills of law are, after their adoption by the National Assembly, transmitted to the Senate which decides within a time of twenty days counting from the date of reception, with exception made for the law of finance. In case of urgency declared by the Government, the time is reduced to five days.

If the Senate adopts a text identical to that of the National Assembly, the law is transmitted without delay to the President of Faso for promulgation. In case of disagreement between the National Assembly and the Senate, or if the Senate has not decided within the time required, a mixed joint [paritaire] commission is responsible for proposing a text on the provisions remaining in discussion. If the mixed joint commission does not reach a common text, the National Assembly decides definitively.

However, the bills of law having for [their] principal object the organization of the territorial collectivities, of the representative instances of the Burkinabè established outside of Burkina Faso and the questions of belief [culte] are submitted first to the Senate. In this case, if there is disagreement between the two Chambers and in the case of failure of the mixed joint commission, the Senate decides definitively.

Article 113

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Government is required to furnish to the Parliament all explanations which are demanded of it on its management and on its acts.

The Parliament may constitute commissions of inquiry.

Article 114

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The reciprocal relations of the National Assembly and of the Government are expressed equally by:

- the motion of censure;
- the question of confidence;
- the dissolution of the National Assembly;
- the procedure of parliamentary discussion.

Article 115

[Last amended by Law No. 002-97/ADP of 27 January 1997]

The National Assembly can present a motion of censure with regard to the Government. The motion of censure is signed by at least one-third of the Deputies of the Assembly. To be adopted, it must be voted by an absolute majority of the members composing the Assembly. In case of rejection of the motion of censure, its signatories may not present another before the time period of one year.

Article 116

[Last amended by Law No. 002-97/ADP of 27 January 1997]

The Prime Minister can, after deliberation of the Council of Ministers, engage before the National Assembly the responsibility of the Government on a program or on a declaration of general policy.

The confidence in the Government is refused if the text presented does not receive the absolute majority of the votes of the members composing the Assembly.

The vote on the question of confidence may not take place less than forty-eight hours after the deposit of the text.

The Prime Minister can, after deliberation of the Council of Ministers, engage the responsibility of the Government before the Assembly on the adoption of a text. In this case, this text is considered adopted except if a motion of censure, deposited within the twenty-four hours which follow, is adopted in the conditions specified in the paragraphs above.

Article 117

If the motion of censure is voted or confidence is refused, the President of Faso terminates, within a time period of eight days, the functions of the Prime Minister. He appoints a new Prime Minister according to the procedure specified in Article 46.

Article 118

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The agenda of each Chamber of the Parliament consists of the discussion of the popular petitions, of the bills deposited by the Government and of the proposals accepted by it.

Nevertheless, any proposal of law can be discussed two months after its submission to the Government without application of the preceding paragraph having been made, or of Articles 121 and 122 of this Constitution.

The inscription, by priority, in the agenda of the Chambers, of a bill or proposition of law or of a declaration of general policy, is of right if the President of Faso or of the Prime Minister makes the demand for it.

Article 119

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

In case of urgency declared by the Government, the Parliament must decide on the bills of law within a time period of fifteen days. This time period is extended [porté] to forty days for the law of finance. If at the expiration of the time period no vote has been taken, the bill of law is promulgated unchanged [en l'état], on proposal of the Prime Minister by the President of Faso, in the form of an ordinance.

Article 120

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The proposals and amendments concerning the law of finance deposited by the members of the Parliament are irreceivable when their adoption would have as a consequence, either a diminution of public resources, or the creation or the increase [aggravation] of a public expense [charge], unless they should be accompanied by a proposal for augmentation of receipts or of equivalent economies.

Article 121

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

If the Government demands it, the Chamber of the Parliament referred to [a matter] decides by a single vote on all or part of a text in discussion retaining in it only the amendments proposed or accepted by it.

Article 122

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

When a Chamber of the Parliament has referred [confié] the examination of a draft of a text to a commission, the Government can, after the opening of debates[,] oppose the examination of any amendment which has not been preliminarily submitted to this commission.

Article 123

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The proposals and amendments which are not of the domain of the law are irreceivable. The irreceivability is decided by the President of the Chamber referred to [the matter].

In case of dispute, the Constitutional Council, on referral [saisine] of the Prime Minister or of the President of the Chamber referred to [the matter], decides with a time period of eight days.

TITLE VIII OF THE JUDICIAL POWER

Article 124

The Judicial Power is confided in the judges; it is exercised on all the territory of Burkina Faso by the jurisdictions of the judicial order and of the administrative order determined by the law.

Article 125

The Judicial Power is the guardian of the individual and collective liberties. It sees to the respect for the rights and freedoms defined in this Constitution.

Article 126

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The jurisdictions of the judicial order and of the administrative order of Burkina Faso are:

- the Court of Cassation;
- the Council of State;
- the Court of Accounts;
- the Tribunal of Conflicts;

Article 129

The judicial power is independent.

Article 130

The presiding magistrates [magistrates du siege] are only submitted[,] in the exercise of their functions[,] to the authority of the law. They are not removable.

Article 131

The President of Faso is the guarantor of the independence of the judicial power.

He is assisted by the Superior Council of the Magistrature.

Article 132

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The President of Faso is the President of the Superior Council of the Magistrature.

The Guardian of the Seals, the Minister of Justice, is the first vice president and the first President of the Court of Cassation is the second vice president.

Article 133

[Last Amended by Law No. 001-2002/AN of 22 January 2002]

The Superior Council of the Magistrature gives its opinion on any question concerning the independence of the magistrature and on the exercise of the right of pardon.

An organic law establishes the organization, the composition, the attributions and the functioning of the Superior Council of the Magistrature.

Article 134

[Last amended by Law No. 003-2000/AN of 11 April 2000]

The Superior Council of the Magistrature makes proposals on the appointments and the assignments of the presiding magistrates of the Court of Cassation, of the Council of State[,] and of the Court of Accounts and on those of the first presidents of the courts of appeal.

It gives its opinion on the proposals of the Minister of Justice, concerning the appointments of other presiding magistrates.

The prosecuting magistrates [magistrates du parquet] are appointed and assigned on proposal of the Minister of Justice.

Article 135

An organic law establishes the status of the magistrature with respect for the principles contained in this Constitution.

It provides for and organizes the guarantees and the independence of the magistrature.

Article 136

Hearings in all the courts and in all the tribunals are public. The closed hearing is only allowed in the cases defined by the law.

The decisions of the jurisdictions are substantiated [motivée], except in the cases where the law provides otherwise for it.

TITLE IX

OF THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE

Article 137

[Last amended by Law No. 003-2000/AN of 11 April 2000]

A High Court of Justice is instituted. The High Court of Justice is composed of Deputies that the National Assembly elects after each general renewal, as well as the magistrates designated by the President of the Court of Cassation. It elects its President from among its members.

The law establishes its composition, the rules of its functioning and the procedure applicable before it.

Article 138

The High Court of Justice is competent to take cognizance of the acts committed by the President of Faso in the exercise of his functions and constituting high treason, of infringing the Constitution or of misappropriation of public funds.

The High Court of Justice is equally competent to judge the members of Government for reason of acts qualified as crimes or misdemeanors committed in the exercise or on the occasion of the exercise of their functions. In all other cases, they remain justiciable by the jurisdictions of common law and of the other jurisdictions.

Article 139

The impeachment of the President of Faso is voted by a majority of four-fifths of the votes [voix] of the Deputies composing the Assembly. That of the members of the Government is voted by a majority of two-thirds of the votes of the Deputies composing the Assembly.

Article 140

The High Court of Justice is constrained [liée] by the definition of crimes and misdemeanors and by the determination of the resultant punishments of the criminal laws in force at the time when the acts were committed.

TITLE X

OF THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL AND OF THE ORGANS OF CONTROL

Article 141

[Last amended by Law No. 003-2000/AN of 11 April 2000]

A consultative organ denominated the Economic and Social Council (CES), is instituted.

The Economic and Social Council is charged to give its opinion on the questions of economic, social or cultural character brought to its attention by the President of Faso or the Government.

It may be consulted on any draft of [a] plan or of [a] program of economic, social or cultural character.

The Economic and Social Council can equally proceed to an analysis of any problem of economic and social development. It submits its conclusion to the President of Faso or to the Government.

The Economic and Social Council may designate one of its members[,] on the demand of the President of Faso or of the Government, to present before these organs, the opinion of the Council on the questions which have been submitted to it.

An organic law establishes the composition, the organization and the functioning of the Economic and Social Council.

Article 142

[Last amended by Law No. 003-2000/AN of 11 April 2000]

The organs of control are created by the law.

Their competence concerns question of economic, social and cultural character of national interest.

- three persons of distinction appointed by the President of the National Assembly having at least one jurist;
- [and] three persons of distinction appointed by the President of the Senate having at least one jurist.

The members of the Constitutional Council are appointed for a sole [unique] mandate of nine years. They elect from among themselves the President of the Constitutional Council.

With the exception of the former Heads of State, the members of the Constitutional Council are renewable by thirds (1/3) every three years within the conditions established by the law.

The functions of member of the Constitutional Council are incompatible with those of a member of the Government or of the Parliament.

The other incompatibilities are established by the law.

The establishment of the Constitutional Council newly composed intervenes within the six months following the installation of the Senate.

Article 154

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Constitutional Council sees to the regularity of the presidential elections. It examines the complaints and proclaims the results of the ballot.

The Constitutional Council decides, in case of dispute, on the regularity of the election or of the appointment of the members of the Parliament.

In electoral matters, the Constitutional Council can be referred to [a matter] by any interested candidate.

The Constitutional Council sees to the regularity of the operations of the referendum and proclaims the results of it.

The Constitutional Council sees to respect for the procedure of revision of the Constitution.

Article 155

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The organic laws and the regulations of the Chambers of the Parliament, before their promulgation or their entry into application[,] must be submitted to the Constitutional Council.

To the same ends, the ordinary laws and the treaties submitted to the procedure of ratification, may be deferred to the Constitutional Council, before their promulgation.

Article 156

[Last amended by Law No. 003-2000/AN of 11 April 2000]

The Constitutional Council is also charged with the control of respect[,] by the political parties, for the provisions of Article 13 paragraph 5 of this Constitution.

Article 157

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The Constitutional Council is referred to [a matter] by:

- the President of Faso;
- the Prime Minister;
- the President of the Senate;
- the President of the National Assembly;
- one-tenth (1/10) at least of the members of the National Assembly.

If, on the occasion of an instance in course before a jurisdiction, it is held [soutenu] that a legislative provision infringes the rights and freedoms that the Constitution guarantees, the Constitutional Council can be referred to [the matter] of this question on referral [renvoi] of the Council of State or of the Court of Cassation. The Constitutional Council decides within a time period determined by the law. An organic law determines the conditions of application of this provision.

The Constitutional Council can refer itself to any questions relative to its competence, if it judges it necessary.

Article 158

[Last amended by Law No. 003-2000/AN of 11 April 2000]

The referral of the Constitutional Council to [a matter] suspends the time period of the promulgation of the texts which are deferred to it.

Article 159

[Last amended by Law No. 003-2000/AN of 11 April 2000]

A provision declared unconstitutional may not be promulgated or implemented.

The decisions of the Constitutional Council are not susceptible to any recourse. They impose themselves on the public powers and on all the administrative and jurisdictional authorities.

Article 160

[Last amended by Law No. 003-2000/AN of 11 April 2000]

An organic law establishes the organization and the functioning of the Constitutional Council and determines the procedure applicable before it.

TITLE XIVbis

OF THE MEDIATOR OF FASO

Article 160.1

[Inserted by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

A gratuitous [gracieux] intercessory organ between the public administration and the citizens denominated the Mediator of Faso[,] is instituted.

The President of Faso appoints the Mediator of Faso.

Article 160.2

[Inserted by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

An organic law establishes the attributions, the organization and the functioning of the Mediator of Faso.

TITLE XIV<sup>ter</sup>
OF THE SUPERIOR COUNCIL OF COMMUNICATION

Article 160.3

[Inserted by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

An independent administrative authority of regulation of communication to the public denominated [the] Superior Council of Communication[,] abbreviated (CSC), is instituted.

Article 160.4

[Inserted by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

An organic law establishes the attributions, the composition, the organization and the functioning of the Superior Council of Communication.

TITLE XV
OF REVISION

Article 161

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The initiative of the revision of the Constitution belongs concurrently:

- to the President of Faso;
- to the members of the Parliament by the majority of each of the Chambers;
- to the people when a fraction of at least thirty thousand (30,000) persons having the right to vote, introduces before the National Assembly a petition constituting a proposal, written and signed.

Article 162

[Last amended by Law No. 002-97/ADP of 27 January 1997]

The law establishes the conditions of the implementation of the procedure of revision.

Article 163

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The bill of revision is, in every case, submitted preliminarily to the evaluation [appréciation] of the Parliament.

Article 164

[Last amended by Law No. 033-2012/AN of 11 June 2012]

The bill of the text is then submitted to referendum. It is considered to have been adopted when it has obtained the majority of the suffrage expressed.

The President of Faso then proceeds with its promulgation in the conditions established by Article 48 of this Constitution.

However, the bill of revision is adopted without recourse to referendum if it is approved by a majority of three-quarters (3/4) of the members of the Parliament convoked in Congress by the President of Faso. The Bureau of the Congress is that of the National Assembly.

Article 165

No bill or proposal of revision of the Constitution is receivable when it effects:

- the republican nature and form of the State;
- the multiparty system;
- the integrity of the national territory.

No procedure of revision may be initiated or pursued when it infringes upon the integrity of the territory.
